Registration/First Weeks

Twenty seven hundred students, madly rushed through the highly

Computerized Process

known as registration. Despite a large amount of confusion among the sophomores, incoming teacher Paul Weinberger remarked, "I was surprised how smoothly it went. It looked like a college."

The first weeks of school provided exciting activities that many people enjoyed participating in. Hawaiian Day, the theme for the first fifth quarter, brought out grass skirts, straw hats, and Hawaiian shirts. Cowgirls and ranch dudes were rounded up during Western Day while Bonnie and Clyde and various other violin carrying g-men blasted their way across the campus on the 30's Gangster Day.

1. Fifi Tanacsos handed in her emergency card as she prepared to register.

2. The National Honor Society helped by handing out IBM class cards to registrars.

3. A.S.B. cards, the key to student activities, were purchased at registration. Those connected with the sale were Henry Nunez, Kim Christian, and Jeri Cooper.

4. Mrs. Joiner balanced the money that flowed into registration.

5. Bonnie and Clyde, Lauren Hageman, Tom Rochetto and G-man, Larry Mocknik cooled the scene on Gangster Day.

6. Rhonda Rasmussen galloped away with her horse on Western Day.

7. Nancy Peterson and Kathi Smith were delighted to have their picture taken on Hawaiian Day.

8. Clubs successfully recruited members with Ski Club gaining almost 400 people for the largest club on campus.

1. Enthusiastic spectators, Ruth Kaminsky and Natalie Joy, enjoyed particpating in one of the cheers.

2. Students continued to support the team throughout the season.

3. Players looked in apprehension as a new play was sent into action.

4. As spirit diminished, cheerleader, April Monroe tried to spark excitement in the rooters.

5. The Pep Band added some new songs to their collection, including the Chicago favorite, "Just You and Me".

6. Kim Burdick, in one of his rowdier moods, made a rare appearance at the microphone, leading his favorite cheer.

7. Nancy Daves watched as Arcadia attempted a field goal.

8. During a break in the game, song girls, Carin Ashton and Debi Johnson relaxed a little.

Football

Excitement was at it's hilt for the last game of the season. The scores had progressively gotten closer and the crowd anticipated victory. The chant proved true as the Pep Squad continued to create enthusiasm throughout the games and at our win against Alhambra.

Rock Steady

Colorful renditions of the Band's contemporary music were provided by the Drill Team and the Apache Princesses. Highlighting the season, was a special patriotic halftime, as Arcadia commenced it's celebration of the bicentennial with fireworks and Doreen Bosacki singing "God Bless America."

4. Jim Hatcher amused himself with a Hoppity-Hop during one of many original pep rally competitions.

5. At the climax of a game of musical chairs, excited athletes were ecstatic over an opportunity to play "grabsies" with the cheerleaders.

6. Steve Barchan helped to conduct many impressive events.

7. The Pep Band was popular with the Apache student body.

PEP ASSEMBLIES/RALLIES

The Pep Squad faced a difficult job: that of attempting to arouse school spirit in ar

Apathetic

Apache student body. Although the pep assemblies especially were well planned and superbly executed, student reaction was remarkably poor. In terms of audience participation, the average rally was a fiasco. In addition, the unimpressive record of the varsity football team was no great help in inspiring Apache spirit among those who looked no further than the scoreboard in deciding the merit of the team. The Pep Band, however, its ability not noticeably impaired by the presence of Penny Phillips, first girl to join its ranks, was met with a unanimously warm reception.

1. The reindeer skit, performed by Jim Neelands, Chuck Pacheco, Mike Coberg, Steve Possemoto, Bill Jess, Brad Livingston, Brad Palfrey, Bill Kramb, Allan Melkesian, and Alex Tsirigakis was a big hit with the audience at the Christmas Assembly.

2. The Senior Drill-Down was one of many acts providing comic relief at the Spaghetti Dinner.

3. Linda Posen, Lynn Highman, Anne Long, and Dave Bohmke (in car), were among those who worked diligently for the Kiowa/Senior Men Car Wash, which, despite a severe shortage of dry rags, wetted $200 for both organizations.

4. Nord Eriksson, Kevin Russell, Helen Nunez, Dave Bohmke, Anne Pendo, Dave Ledyard, and Doug Lama were only a few of the eager volunteers participating in the Christmas Tree Sale put on by Key Club, which donated the $1500 in profits to the City of Hope and Methodist Hospital.

5. Kim Sommers presented Mr. Morgan with a white carnation as part of the Valentine's Day Carnation Sale, which earned Girl's League $130.

Assemblies/Fund Raisers

The AHS Student Body found itself

Well-Endowed

in terms of fund raising activities, among other things, as several organizations provided the students and the community with a variety of opportunities to support them. Food, however, was a favorite, as students eagerly bought a wide variety of toothsome goodies, while at the same time financing their favorite clubs — and dentists. Duchesses led off the year's efforts, putting candy apples on sale during the fall. Junior Exchange held a Christmas Candy Cane Sale, while Girl's League put on their annual Easter Egg Fund Raiser in the spring.

Arcadia, as usual, was also well provided with interesting and often musical assemblies. World traveler, John Goddard, fired the collective imaginations of the Apaches with a program including everything from climbing Mt. Rainer to piloting jet fighters, along with a more than ample slice of his personal philosophy. The Rock n' Roll Review gave students a look at rock from the Beatles to Bowie. Another 'Rock' assembly, "Listen to the Music," relating rock to social and personal development, was very popular with the students.

1. Kathy Byrne made quite a scene in front of stately guests at a party.

2. Paul Ryan, Craig Cox and Dennis Alfieri asked some interrogating questions to pry the truth out of Greg Merkley in "Nothing But the Truth."

3. John Hontos played a convincing role as the evil, falsely accusing, child molester, Bob Ewell.

4. Atticus Finch, portrayed by Craig Cox, was the lawyer defending Jim Pounds, a poor black man falsely accused of rape.

5. Ron Perry and Sue Robertson, as Jem and Scout were bewildered by adult malice and prejudice.

6. A dramatic touch was added by Connie Portis who characterized the adult, Jean Louise Finch, reminiscing her childhood.

7. The innocent, tomboy, Scout, relaxed on the porch in the heat of the Alabama summer.

8. Lori Clark took the role of terminally ill Mrs. Dubose whose bitterness was misunderstood by the townspeople.

Senior Jesters

Highlighting a year of superb plays was the Senior Jester's production of "To Kill a Mockingbird." The play, unique in its depth of quality acting, portrayed and prejudice in a small town in Alabama. The show, bringing a sellout crowd every night, was held over by popular demand. "Nothing But the Truth," a typical 1930's situation comedy, did not draw as many people as expected but got the actors off to a fine start.

Junior Jesters/Road Show

The Road Show, a traveling variety show, was headed by Jody Grimshaw. The two casts delighted a wide range of audiences with performances which included everything from to banana eating.

Junior Jesters performed one-acts early in the year which were well received by the student body. Excellent quality was expected from the young actors with the guidance of Mrs. Wiener, a new addition to the drama department.

1. Gayle Peterson lustily spoke her mind to Al Garcia.

2. Mary Johnson and Janice Foote had no trouble portraying the playground crowd.

3. A Chinese fantasy, "The Stolen Prince," was highlighted by Linda Glynn, narrator, and Jeff Sadoris who played Property Man.

4. Lori Clarke said, "Surprise, surprise!" as Craig Cox and Larry Diener assisted her.

5. Pantomime artist Mary Johnson believed "It was working!"

6. Connie Portis and Sue Robertson sampled a delightful snack during the course of the Road Show.

Prom

Apathy once again made its mark as the AHS student body turn out for the Prom Royalty election was less than 17%. Executive Council was then forced to bring the election to the students in homeroom periods. Monica Rodrigues, Caren Ashton, Lisa Verhovek, Louise Wilson and Sue Gibson were the resulting winners.

The location of the festive night also provided another problem. The Queen Mary, Fashion Park and the Mariott Hotel were places considered until the final decision of the Los Angeles Hilton was made definite in late February.

The special night finally arrived, however, complete with floor shows, an orchestra, and much dancing. A highlight of the evening, the crowing of the queen, was anxiously awaited by the 450 couples attending. Sue Gibson proudly received the honor truly adding to the night of

2. Specialized trash cans came in very handy at the Donkey Basketball game, the Prom fund-raiser sponsored by the Junior class.

3. The Prom, held at the Los Angeles Hilton, was anxiously anticipated and thoroughly enjoyed by all who attended.

4. Mr. Maxwell, teacher at Dand, representing the Faculty, demonstrated his expertise in mounting and thoroughly controlling his donkey.

5. Gladly, the tired riders went to load the obnoxious animals on their bus.

6. Varsity Cheerleader, Kiowa and Thrillseeker, Sue Gibson, was chosen as the Prom Queen 1975.

1. The Valentine carnation sale was one of Girls' League's most lucrative fund raisers.

2. Preschoolers enjoyed a Halloween party presented by members, Robin Barrington, Cecelia Teran, Teacher; Patty Nash, Kathy Jennett, Shirley Reid. Bottom Row; Sandy Muhleman, Susan Hezlep, Kristin Powell and Nina Elby.

3. This luscious looking Easter egg could be bought from any Girls' League member around Easter time.

4. Girls' League Council members were: Kristin Powell, President; Kim Sommers, Louise Wilson, Karen Clossen, Lisa Eventov, Lori Duane, Susie Delahooke, Sandy Muhleman, Teri Mies, Patty McNall, and Carrie Khanchalian. Not Pictured: Lynn McKenzie and Kim Christian.

5. Friendliest Girls for the second semester were: Junior, Kari Sanford and Sophomore, Suzanne Potter.

6. Sophomore, Robin Nease; Senior, Lisa Verhovek; and Junior Anita Cassis were chosen Friendliest Girls for the first semester.

Friendliest Girl/Girls' League

Friendliest Girl elections, an AHS tradition, sponsored by Girls' League, were run for the last time this year. Due to the lethargic response of the Student Body, the three planned elections were cut to two, and will not take place next year. Although the students who did vote displayed

Excellent Taste

Girls' League did not feel the small turnout justified continuing the polls.

Girls' League participated in a number of activities throughout the year. Primarily a service organization to which all girls, theoretically, belong, the league held a number of fund raisers to support their projects. One activitiy supported by these funding drives was a Halloween Party for underprivileged children.

1. Antelope Valley won 1st place in the West Arcadia band review.

2. Girls chosen for Candystriper Ball royalty included, Bobbette Wolverton, Queen; Janice Mies, Connie Scherer, Kim Sommers and Susie Klimke.

3. Loara High School, our close rival, won the sweepstakes trophy for the second year in a row at West Arcadia.

4. Dave Bohmke, youth campaign co-chairman, talked with candidate Chris McGuire, as many AHS students campaigned for those running for school board.

5. Charles Gilb was among the enraptured audience at attorney Joe Bush's presentation on youth problems and interests.

6. Dawn Baske and Kathi Orme were two of many willing volunteers who raised money for the blind.

7. Arcadia alumnus, Galinda Velasco was relieved at the end of the 20 mile bike-a-thon.

8. Junior Achiever, Patty McNall, and her sales partner listened to discussions on company management and salesmanship.

Community Happenings

Besides school involvement, students became active members of the community and gained better communication with residents of the city as a result. The Junior Volunteers of the Methodist Hospital sponsored the annual Candystriper Ball. The night's theme, "The Magic of successfully created an air of holiday romanticism.

Other activities students were involved with included the White Cane Drive sponsored by Girl's League in connection with the Lion's Club to help the blind, and the Cancer Cyclethon, held by the American Cancer Society.

A special bonus for Arcadia students was a seminar conducted by District Attorney Joseph Bush regarding youth problems and interest.

1. The lovely members of the 1975 homecoming court were; AFS Princess, Linda VanDongen (Belguium), Anne Nielsen (Denmark), Kaisa Alfredson (Sweden). Sophomore Princess was Anita Archer, Senior Princess, Lori Livingston, Queen, Nancy Hage and Junior Princess Charlene Milich.

2. The Court and their escorts had front row seats for the homecoming game.

3. Nancy received all the honors of Homecoming Queen as Ceci Johnson, last year's queen, excitedly crowned her, and Chuck Pacheco, ASB president draped her with the robe of royalty. Onlooking the traditionaal event Luise Jardin, AFS student from Brazil.

4. A bond of loyalty was renewed between this and last years pep squad as the Alma Mater was played.

5. Pete Bellows and Richard Meyers clinked cones in honor of Charlie Papp in the Community Welfare booth.

6. Linda Posen practiced her Little Red Riding Hood imitation when it started to rain.

7. Fortunately, Dave Chavez was among those captured by the Thespians for the Jail-A-Friend booth.

8. Mr. Peters took evil delight over the destruction of a helpless Volkswagen in the DECA concession.

Homecoming

Not even sprinkles could dampen the enthusiasm for Homecoming. A program of fireworks was displayd during the halftime, including the spell out of the queen, Nancy Hage. Following the game, a funfilled Fifth Quarter featuring Van Halen and Rye was held. A new idea was presented and put into action; a carnival in which clubs sponsored booths instead of the traditional 4 floats.

Spectacular

Song/Flag

Gentle Persuasion

The Song Girls, in addition to many other units of the Pep Squad, encountered problems in getting their uniforms together. It finally became necessary for the girls to go to the pep supply company and demand that their outfits be finished. A little saw the completion of the uniforms four hours after the company normally closed. Despite a rough start, the song girls came up with many new routines which included more dance steps than in previous years. Long hours of practice and sore muscles didn't seem to matter as the girls supported our teams through good times and bad.

It doesn't take much work or time to be a Flag Girl, or so one might think. But in actuality, the six flag girls spent an average of twenty hours per week creating and perfecting new routines. The devoted girls also added a little spice to their routines by having each member twirl two flags on different occasions. Each girl was responsible for making a new flag for each performance.

4

1. The Flag girls perfromed the fight song to the music of the Pep Band at the Bishop Amat rally.

2. The Song Girls routines at assemblies, all began differently.

3. The Flag Girls spent Thursday nights preparing for football games.

4. Song Girls: Helen Nunez, Nancy Hage, Dana Deverick (head), Carolyn Hassett, Caren Ashton, and Debbie Johnson.

5. Flag Girls: Diane Morsillo, Joanne Bush, Linda Posen, Connie Scherer, Monette Ower and Karin McGuffin (head).

6. Performance after performance, the Song Girls came up with new routines which showed their immense spirit.

1. Besides being enthusiastic, ecstatic, and rowdy, the J.V. Cheerleaders were highly excitable.

2. Although Patty Tiffany handled the razor skillfully, the balloon later exploded, leaving Ed Flores drenched.

3. J. V. Cheer: Patty Tiffany (head), Cindy Dole, Leslie Karr, Dena Rooker, Anita Casis, Juli Hageman, Patty Lopez, and Audrey Schuster.

4. The Pep Band played music from "Mame" and their idol group, "Chicago."

J.V. Cheer/Pep Band

The Pep Band supplied A.H.S. with great music and

Practical Jokes

Some of their crazy antics were "sofa sitting" on Diane Morsillo's driveway, waiting for her to return from a date and changing the tempo of music in the middle of a Song Girl routine.

A massive water balloon fight with Pep Squad members during summer camp had quite an effect on the Junior Varsity Cheerleaders. They had been accepted into the Pep Squad. The girls' peppy actions were apparent at all games, rallies and assemblies.

Varsity Cheer/Apache Joe/Pep Commissioner

Women's liberation was truly apparent at A.H.S. when the three girl Varsity Cheerleaders were allowed, for the first time, to wear long pants as part of their attire. On the first day of cheerleader camp the girls new pants ripped and they had to mend before continuing practice. All five cheerleaders proved their tremendous enthusiasm and spirit when they won an excellent trophy at camp for their routine.

Although usually incorrect, Apache Joe, Joe Mazzarese displayed much creativity in presenting his sport result prophecies to the student body at pep assemblies. He was also given the honor of leading cheers at the microphone during football games, following his amazing speed in ushering the team onto the field.

Pep Commissioner Nancy Daves planned and arranged Arcadia High's first card section for the Varsity football and basketball home games. She also organized four committees, each with a specific purpose such as selling pep items and decorating the school with banners and posters.

1. A card section at home games was one of Nancy Daves new ideas as Pep Commissioner.

2. The team of April Monroe and Keith Rasmussen were the winners of a "crazy" relay race during a lunch pep rally.

3. A saloon complete with buxom cigarette girls (Monica Rodriguez and April Monroe) and poker players (Jon Bernasconi, Joe Mazzarese, and Steve Barchan) was the setting for a skit held on Gangster Day.

4. Varsity Cheerleaders: Steve Barchan, April Monroe, Sue Gibson, Jon Bernasconi, and Monica Rodriguez.

5. Win or lose, the Pep Squad continued to encourage school spirit.

6. Apache Joe, Joe Mazzarese, wore an Indian headdress, which was new to the traditional Apache Joe outfit, while mounted upon "Lucky Tuskin."

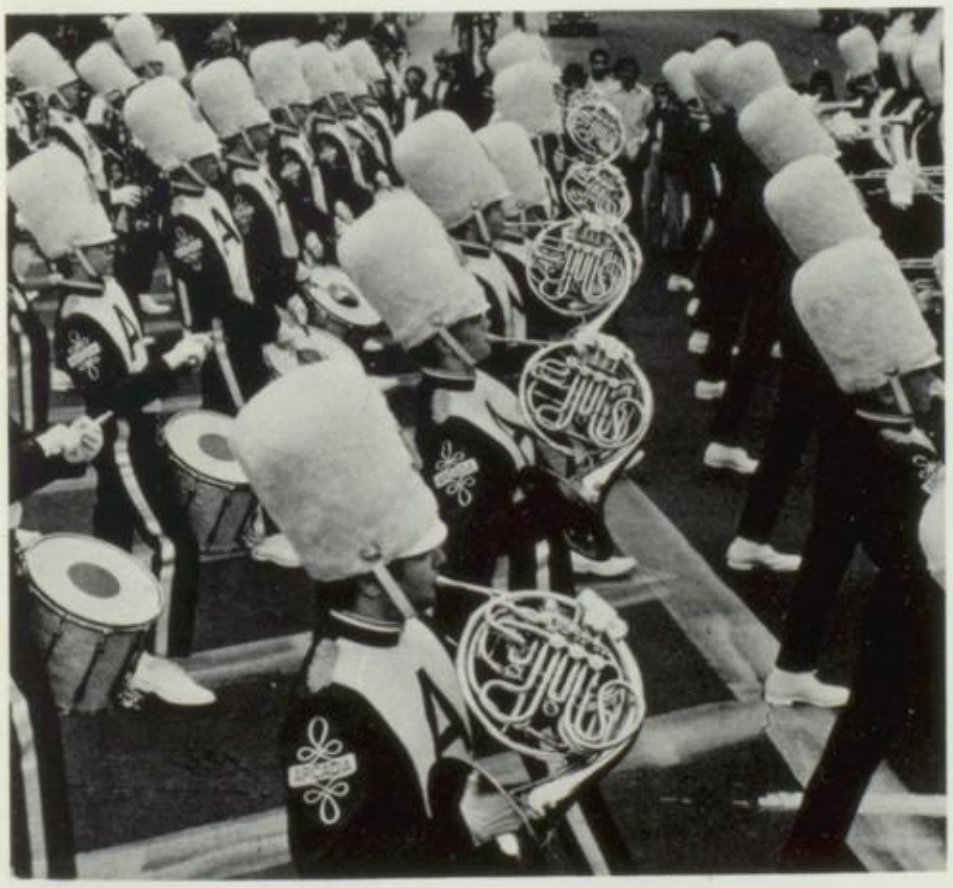
while the Band kept taking Sweepstakes. Colton, Chino, and Santa Monica were the scenes for three very impressive performances. But the real highlight came when the Apache Marching Band walked away with Sweepstakes at Long Beach, retiring the Mayor's trophy for the second time in the Band's history. They performed in a halftime competition at Los Altos High School.



1. The band practiced marching daily during third period, on El Monte.

2. The French Horn section was quite strong, and very important to the total sound of the band.

3. The success of the Drill Team started with a first place trophy at Chino.

Drill Team: Lori Allison, Martha Bauman, Sue Brooks, Kim Byer, Cheryl Chastain, Marcia Cole, Nancy Coleman, Joanne Conner, Cathy Cox, Sue Crowly, Debbie Denneen, Dorinda Dubin, Kathy Duffy, Lisa Eventov, Karen Flanagan, Karen Gardner, Cindy Gelber, Wendy Grinshaw, Kristie Hansen, Louise Hawks, Cindy Heather, Gina Helms, Cheryl Jennings, Lynn Jenson, Denise Johnson, Katie Kearns, Anita Kenz, Margaret Kiersted, Suzanne King, Sharon Kuthe, Cathy Lomasney, Dianne Legg, Anne Long, Marianne McMillan, Charlene Milich, Sandy Muhleman, Elise Murdock, Laurie Nash, Patsy O'Brien, Siobhan O'Callaghan, Patti Rambeau, Julie Rosskopf, Andrea Scatena, Anna Torcaso, Mary Tyson, Leslie Whitcher, Desiree Wilbanks, Anne Winslow, Wendy Wolverton, Carolyn Wuille, Cathy Zwiebal.

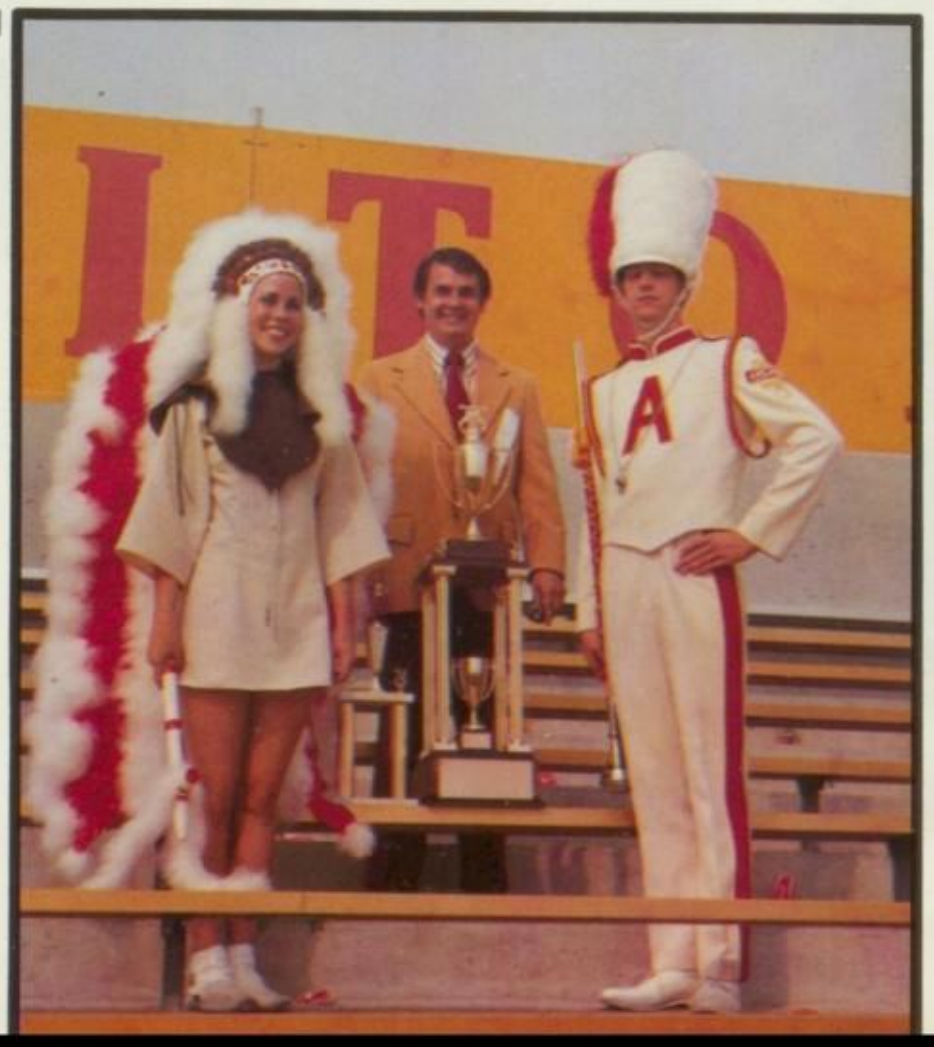
1. The hard work displayed by Head Tom-Tom, Anne Long, Band instructor, Mr. Alstadt, and Drum Major, Kim Burdick paid off when the Band took sweepstakes and the Drill team took first place at Chino.

2. Princesses: Carole Engle, Dottie Myers, Janice Mies (head), Cheryl Barnard, Julie Stiles, Nancy Boice, Susan Weckerly, and Nikki Franklin.

3. Pep Band members, under the direction of Randy Zorkocy, were also a part of the marching band.

4. Saturday, Oct. 26 was a happy day for the members of the Band and Drill team as both groups took home a trophy, at the Chino Band review.

5. Despite the heavy Arcadia banner, the Princesses received a score of 38 out of 40 in showmanship at Chino.



2

Drill Team

The Apache Tom-Tom Drill Team began the year with a big

as the girls took a refreshing dip in the Arcadia High swimming pools with their clothes on, after an evening practice. Their hours of practice payed off during the marching season. Although the 51 girls didn't place at the Colton Band Review, they came back one week later at the Chino Parade with a very impressive first place. The highlight of the year occured at the Santa Monica Band Review on November 2 when the Drill Team won first place against very stiff competition. The successful marching season was complimented by brilliant half time performances.

Summer was a busy time for the nine Princesses. They attended drill team camps in two sessions due to conflicting vacation times. In addition to camp, many hours were spent in making impressive knee-length headdresses and refeathering the Arcadia arrow. The headdresses and outfits were changed drastically from other years as the girls strived for the natural Indian look. Besides marching in all parades, the Princesses were featured in all halftimes. The girl's mothers made the flags which were used during halftime performances.

Orchestra

Many times it appeared that the Orchestra got the

as the band received more publicity and support from the student body, yet they had quite a busy schedule. Orchestra members attended music camp along with Band members in early September. Dec. 18 was the first big event for the Orchestra as they performed a concert for the holidays at the San Gabriel Civic. The holiday concert was followed by a show presented along with Orchesis, and a formal spring concert in March. Perhaps the biggest event for Orchestra members was the Pops Concert which was held annually during the month of May in the Boys Gym. This event, more than any other showed the student body's support of the Orchestra.

1. How could Patty McNall handle that thing?

2. It was just another day in the life of Henry Spurgeon, the Orchestra pianist.

3. The violin section of the Orchestra was sixteen members strong.

4. Kevin Russell played his French Horn with ease.

5. Scott Mittman, after returning from a study tour in Isreal, mastered the violin in Orchestra.

6. Susan Klimke, Margot Stumpf, and Kristin Powell concentrated on their new piece of music.

Karen,
I am so glad I got to know you this year. I'm sorry you didn't make Chanteurs but I'm glad you were around. I'll miss you next year so come back next year and we'll go to Carl's for lunch.

1. Laura Arthur and Cecelia Teran contributed their vocal talent in making the performances successful.

2. With much enthusiasm, JoAnne Dill added to the tone of the A Capella choir.

3. Gary Buckles practiced his part of the music.

4. Kim Harding, Lori Griffiths, Debbie Fetterly, and Meggan Bicksler sang a soft soprano.

5. Stuart Forden and Ron Rhodes exercised their vocal chords.

Chanteurs/A Capella

Chanteurs seemed to be off their rockers when they held a

"Rock-A-Thon"

for the purpose of raising money. With encouragement from their sponsors, they were able to rock for 42 hours on their rocking chairs. Besides their stunning performances while "rocking", they also performed at the Newport Inn, Arcadia Public Library, and the Ramada Inn.

Under the direction of Mr. Neumeister, the 81 members of A Capella Choir made an intriguing Christmas performance at the Huntington Library. They also performed along with the orchestra at the San Gabriel Civic Auditorium.

Executive Council

Executive Council strongly encouraged

Suggestive Ideas

from the student body as lockers with Apache Indians, designed and painted by Mr. Jim Calderhead, were located in almost every hall as suggestion boxes. Encouraging seniors to maturely maintain the priviledge of open lunch, the leaders also achieved the goal of resurfacing the parking lot. They also directed the very successful and enjoyable Homecoming carnival of Memories. The council channeled their time and energy towards a major cafeteria revision proposal and Arcadia's ever present smoking problem. Besides promoting students to express their feelings, whether positive or negative, the Executive Council coordinated a Christmas dance which proved to be very successful.

House of Representatives

All things come to pass. And so they did as many proposals from the House of Representatives were put into action. Led by Senior Class Senator, Steve Quackenbush, cafeteria revision plans were effectively carried out, meeting the approval of the student body. The awareness and acceptance of the student's to finalize proposals was continually stressed at the Thursday morning meetings. This mature attitude was evident as concerned students tried to attack the smoking problem at Arcadia. To further communications between the students and Executive Council, a special steering committee was formed out of representatives to the House.

Responsibility

1. Mr. Anderson was an active member of the administration who gave the final okay for all Executive Council actions.

2. Chuck Pacheco also took an active part in House of Representatives meetings, aside from his other jobs as Student Body President.

3. Brent Daves, Junior Class Senator, headed the plan for cafeteria revision.

4. Steve Quackenbush not only led House of Representatives meetings as Senior Class Senator, but he also headed the Steering Committee.

5. Brad Palfrey with the aid of Dr. Cordano explained a new House proposal concerning the smoking problem.

Kiowas/Senior Men

Despite a slow, somewhat unorganized start and some events, the Kiowas and Senior Men lived up to their reputations as honor and service clubs. Outstanding seniors selected on the basis of scholarship, community service and leadership, took part in many joint activities, including a Sports Day Fifth Quarter, the annual car wash and a Christmas party for retarded children at Hope House. Selling programs at football games while the Senior men attended the parking lot occupied a large part of the Kiowas time during the fall quarter. Christmas also saw the selling of candy filled stockings, "secret angels" and the annual Christmas tea with past year's Kiowas.

Cancelled

Cleaning up eggs and tissue paper were only a few of the risks A.F.S. encountered as they sold Halloween insurance to the Community. The funds raised were used in scholarships for Arcadia students going abroad. A with the Merchandising Club resulted in a very successful rummage sale. Foreign exchange students from surrounding areas visited Arcadia during A.F.S. day as English and Social Study classes listened to informative talks about the student's countries.

Sparkling productions never just happen. And so was the case as the Synchronized Swim Club devoted many hours of hard practice to their spring performance, "Different Strokes for Different Folks." Not only were their stunts gracefully executed, but special effects such as dry ice, set the mood for a routine to the song, funeral for a Friend.

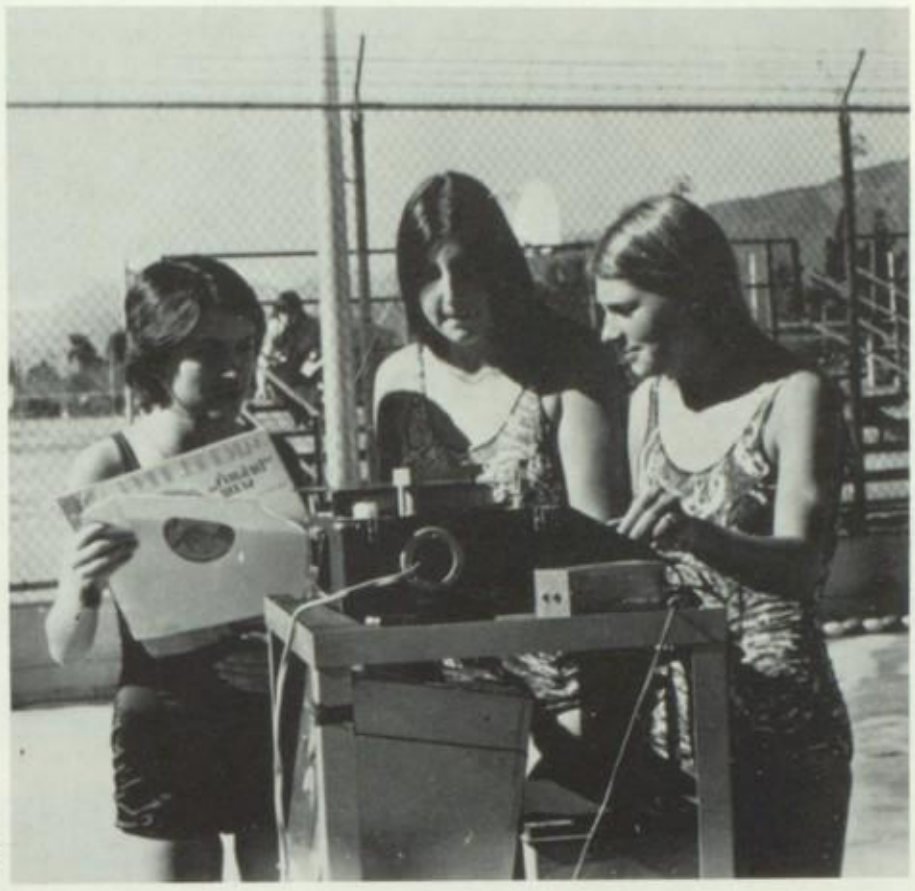
Another exciting aspect was the welcoming of six sophomore girls to the club which had in previous years been exclusive to juniors and seniors only.

Orcheses Club members also spent a great deal of time conditioning their bodies and learning new dance techniques in preparation for their concert, "Women Throughout History." Graceful dancers portrayed famous females to the live music of the orchestra, who performed at the San Marino High School auditorium on February 20 and 21.



1. As an important part of modern dancing, Delrose Ravelle conditioned her muscles.

2. A portion of Laurel Kerr, Karen Leatherman, Mary Kay Amato, and Liz Tolle's routine was done out of the water.

3. Synchronized Swim club officers: Mary Kay Amato, Pam Marrone, and Karen Leatherman.

4. Mrs. Voznick advised Lori Anderson, Laura Brown, Terri Salamone, and Lisa Evantov on how to improve their routine.

2. Saraly Fennessy and Kathy Baldwin recruited students for ads.

3. Julie Cooper, Heidi Walker, and Alison Burk got involved in club activities, as they compiled the Organizations section.

4. Diane Krinke and Diane Supple assembled the index for the book, while Alice Sarkisian and Dean Biersch looked through old annuals for photo ideas.

5. On campus activities were the subject for pages completed by Janice Mies, Malisa Masonivich, and Kirk Murphy.

6. Greg Jones demanded hard work from Jim Garrett as they put together the difficult Sports section.

7. The work done on the Underclassmen section by Debbie McPhearson, Mary Ann Gunderson and Lisa Vanni required a lot of alphabitizing.

8. Anne Sullivan put together the twenty four page Administration section.

9. Laurie Grater and Linda Posen decided on new ways of presenting girls sports.

Arcadian Staff

Improving on the 1974 Arcadian's

First Class

rating was a hard act to follow. Thirty one staff members, under the leadership of Editor Lynn Highman, however, tackled the challenge to produce a better annual. Innumerable hours were spent creating layouts, working with photographers and recording the year's happenings. Financially the staff solicited enough advertising to keep the production cost within the budget.

Pow Wow Staff

Explosive editorials created outspoken feelings among students as the Pow Wow editorial staff blasted many fascets of school life. Kurt Osenbaugh, Editor-in-Chief, in his most opinion stated "As editor of the Pow Wow, I must confess that out of all the staffs I have worked with, this is certainly one of them. I'm real proud of these kids." Nineteen "kids" produced a quality newspaper despite printing production problems.

2. Dave Chavez promoted the Forensics club to Cheryl Barnard, Julie Stiles and Carol Engle on Club Day.

3. Todd Michero was preparing himself mentally for that Saturday's speech tournament.

3

Creative Writing/Forensics

An assortment of aspiring poets and short story writers met once a week in D-2 to their creative ideas towards the production of the Creative Writing Book. Sponsors, Ms. Cash and Mrs. Brittan, helped the group in critiquing poems and stories submitted by the student body. The finished book was sold to the public at the Arts Festival held at Fashion Park.

With tournaments almost every weekend, the Forensics club still found time to sell donuts and hold the biggest car rally known in this school's history. One hundred cars were entered and the two hundred dollar profit went towards speech tournament entry fees. Several Forensic speakers held speeches on the theme "The Past is Creating the Future" at the America's Heritage Freedom Foundation picnic at Wilderness Park.

Elemen. P.E. Teaching/Future Teachers/Echonee

The world as seen through the eyes of a child is a continually exciting place. And with the desire to share the innocence of his world, three clubs directed their activities towards working with Children

Using the funds raised from a Christmas candy cane drive, the Future Teachers Club gave a party for the children at Montessori School.

Nearly one hundred high school student teachers spent three days a week teaching P.E. to elementary school children, which proved to be a challenging and unique experience. The Elementary P.E. Teaching program, in it's second successful year, emphasized activities concerned with movement exploration, special awareness, rhythmical skills, and team work.

Energetic Echonee club members worked with handicapped children in the Monrovia Training Center and in booths at the Holly Avenue School Carnival.

1. Being able to maneuver a hula-hoop required timing, concentration, and coordination.

2. On Mondays and Fridays when the Elementary P.E. teachers didn't go to their schools, their kids enjoyed free play.

3. Jumping rope was one technique used in movement exporation.

Drama 3, 4/Stage Crafts

The dramatic play, "To Kill a Mockingbird," drew not only a

every night, but a deep sense of accomplishment from Drama 3, 4 students. Mike Sollazzo summed up the year by saying, "The success we have had should not only be attributed to the fact of fine talent, but more to the fact that we have worked together as close friends." The actors abilities also extended to the junior high level where a drama festival was held.

Dramatic performances would get absolutely nowhere without the help of the Stage Crafts class. In addition to constructing sets for all the plays, they prepared costumes and directed lighting and sound. Although weekends and vacations were spent building sets, time was also available to set up assemblies.

Snow Ski/Water Ski/ Hiking

Three hundred and fifty skiiers plowed their way through many feet of powder packed snow. Mammoth was the scene of dynamic free style skiing while Telluride, Colorado provided obstacle racing. The Snow Ski Club, under Mr. Peters' direction, made a record breaking trip of twenty-three hours to Colorado over Christmas vacation.

The Water Ski Club, fifty members strong, took various weekend trips to Lake Castaic and the Colorado River. Attention was directed towards better water techniques and basic skills.

The Hiking Club's first day hike was to Henniger Flats. Their second day hike had a definite purpose, as the members of the club went with members of the Ecology Club on a "clean-up" hike.

Key/Lettermen/Community Welfare

Spectators at the Varsity home football game against Muir were bombarded by a mass of unidentified flying balloons, part of the Key Club's contest. A Christmas Tree Sale netted considerable profits that were donated to the City of Hope and Methodist Hospital. Assistance was also rendered to the Friends of the Arcadia Public Library during their annual book sale.

Zepplin Zoom

The Letterman Club, also service oriented, sold concessions at most home Varsity Basketball games. A Punt-Pass-Kick Competition for 11-13 year old athletes was greatly aided by the Lettermen's help in marking each entry's endeavor.

Community Welfare was concerned about the publics general knowledge as they debated and publicized Noah Websters birthday. To satisfy the public's hunger the club sponsored an ice cream cone booth at homecoming netting the largest profit per person out of any other booth.

Despite a few lost rolls of film, photo assignment paper shortages and barely enough cameras, the photo productions class noticeably improved the photo quality of the 1975 Arcadian. Every deadline was successfully met due to the great amount of work done by 11 dedicated photographers and one outstanding advisor, Mr. Jack Butler.

The Horsemanship Club members were introduced to English and Western techniques in riding. Saturday lessons at the Azusa Canyon Riding stables and horseback trips to Griffith Park highlighted the season.

The Model Rocket Club actually launched their handmade missiles from Arcadia's football field once a month. All systems were go for desert launches also, as the spacecrafts, constructed of balsa wood and paper tubing, connected for lift-off.

F.C.A./Campus Life/Bowling

Two clubs, the Fellowship of Christian Athletes and Campus Life, stimulated Christian growth and fellowship. A free for all Burger Bash, a and reflective rap sessions highlighted Campus Life's year while the F.C.A. attended a Pre-Rose Bowl Breakfast to hear guest speakers from the two prospective teams, Ohio State and U.S.C.

Pillow Fight

Bowling Club members put forth an effort in order to avoid rolling gutterballs and splits in their league play at Bowling Square. They were able to compete for trophies. The club members enjoyed bowling despite some problems with the automatic scoring machines.

Junior Exchange/Duchesses/ Boat Building

Deviating from traditional practice, the Junior Exchange consisted of one club with members of both

Sexes

all of whom diligently worked to lift the club from the ground state it has been in during the past few years. The devoted officers and adept sponsor, Barry White, directed the club to such major activities as treating retarded children to lunch, selling programs at basketball games, planting trees on Arbor Day, and selling food at the Annual Invitational Track Meet.

It may have been a freezing cold morning and right in the middle of Christmas vacation, but that didn't discourage members of the Duchesses Club from decorating the Arcadia City Float. For Valentine's Day they baked heart cookies for the Arcadia Convalescent Hospital.

The three Boat Building Club members progressed from the bathtub to the high school pool as they competitively raced their handmade model boats. Monday and Wednesday meetings were used to create the miniature yachts.

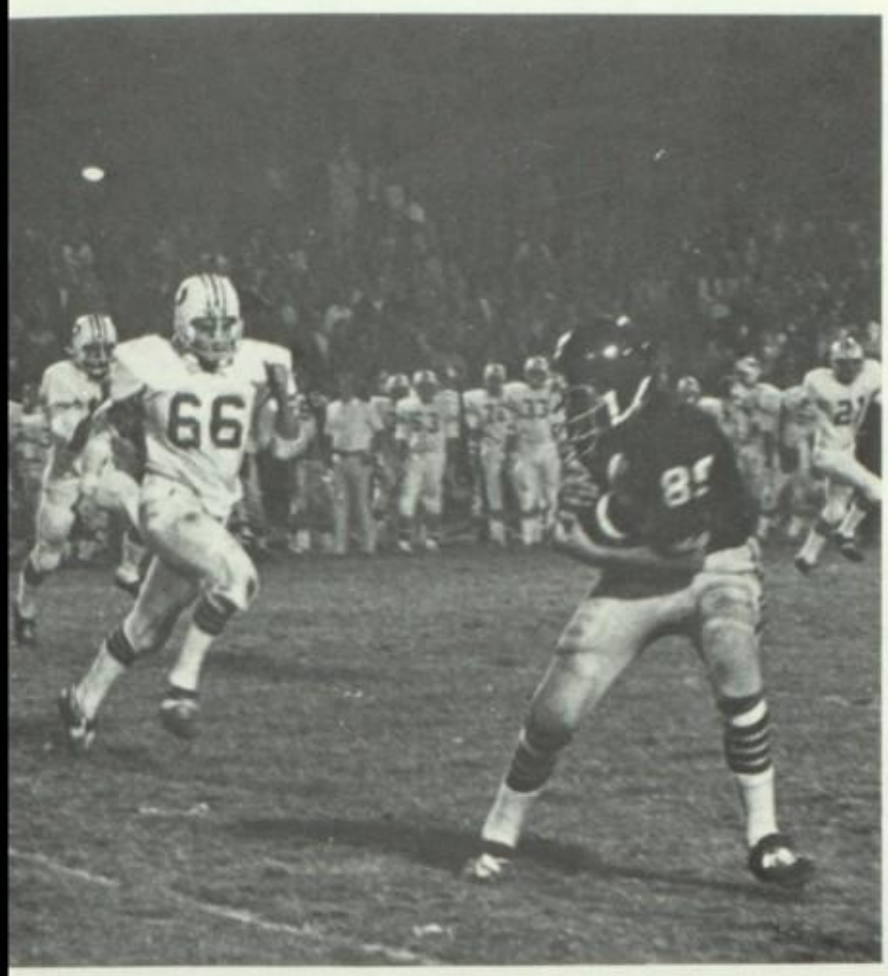
1. Captains Rob MacGregor and Luke Lynch confered with refs prior to a losing effort.

2. Terry Tuttle slipped in the San Marino defense to receive a pass.

3. Although a dismal season plagued the Apaches, spirit was at no loss with a certain senior section.

4. Head coach Dick Salter was at a loss of words in advising Todd Michero.



Varsity Football Team

Although the highlight of the season came at the end, when the Apaches beat Alhambra on hometown turf, Arcadia competed in between opponents who were heavily favored. Unable to find a suitable quarterback for passing, Dick Salter had to rely on 2nd team all League fullback Mike McClellan. Along with McClellan, 1st string all league tackle Dave Anderson, also a junior, supplied the fuel on the line. Underrated senior Rob MacGregor also stood out as an outstanding lineman as he captained the squad for Arcadia.

Exciting Contests

Junior Varsity Football Team

The Junior Varsity Football squad failed to win a game this year although talent was prevelant among the team. Jay Schellin, who was brought down from the Varsity squad to get in more playing time, was a standout on both offense and defense. Helping Schellin on offense, quarterback Mark Benson and Ron Eaton also stood out as varsity material for next year.

Costly Mistakes

was a major factor for the dismal year the squad had. Defensively, Mike Duff and Dave Marples were in the secondary as Rich Petty, Mark Hullett and Steve Poss held down the line.

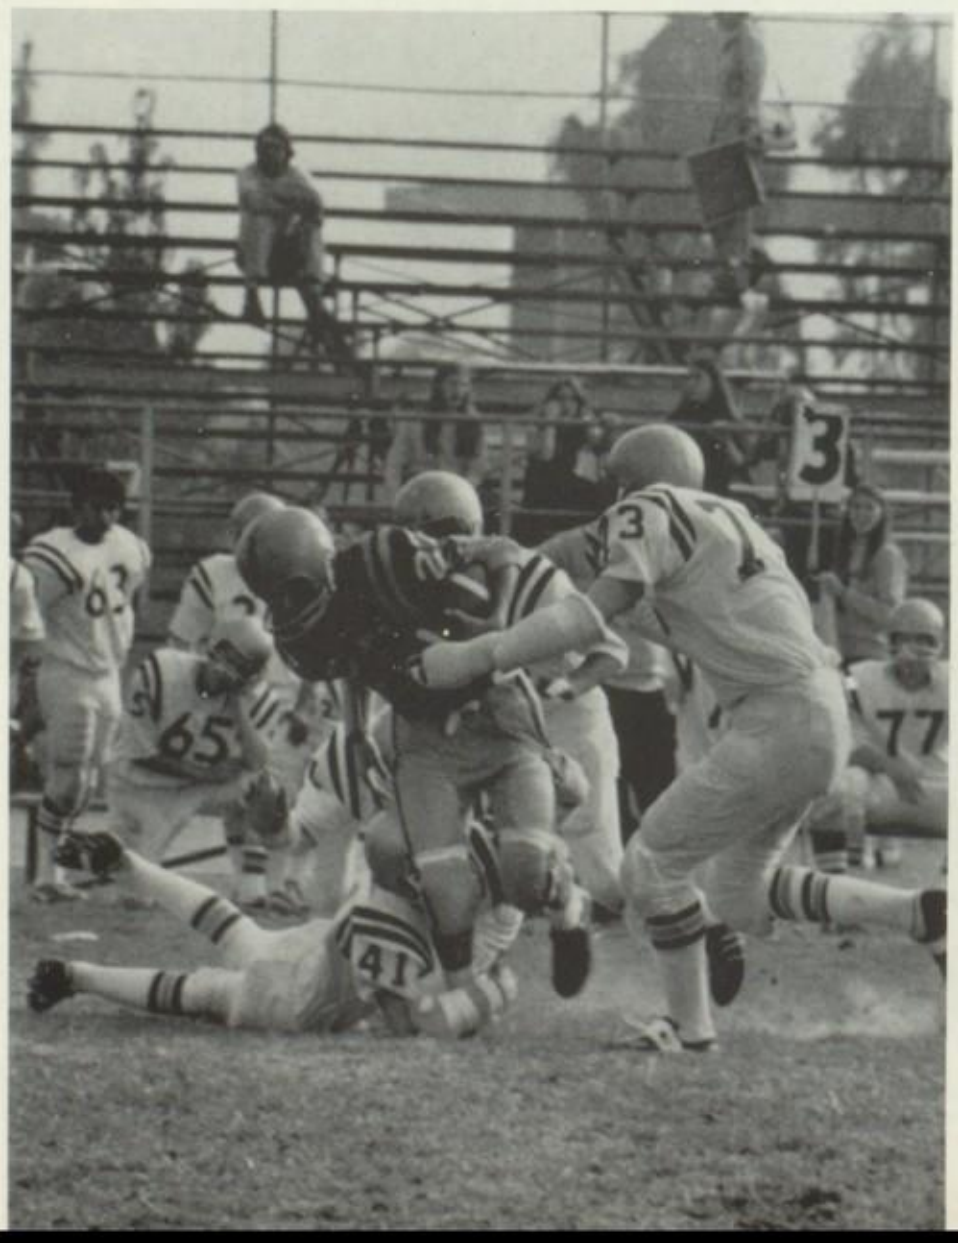
1 Sophomore Freshman Brett Fanning struggles for extra yardage.

2 Perry Smith, a defensive back for the Sophomore team makes a sure tackle.

3 Mike Hull (24), and Tony Arguelles (66) drop an opponent for a loss of yardage.



Sophomore/Soph. Frosh Football

The Sophomore football team with an overall 4 wins 5 loss season, played well even though the league was extremely tough. Standouts on offense were Ray Pevey, Dick Brenner, and Brad Palfrey. On the line Mike Stone and Barry Kelley were standouts. Dan Ertel, Perry Smith, and Mark Tober were the mainstays on the defense.

Supporting a 4-3-2 overall, and 2nd place in league, the soph-frosh football team had injuries that prevented them a championship. A was put on QB Craig Copping, while the backfield was plagued with injuries. On defense standouts included Mike Fata, Chris Antonio, and Tony Arguelles — who was voted best defensive player by the coaches.

Varsity Cross Country

This years varsity cross country team was strong, but

Young

and inexperienced. Junior Gary Lund was chosen as the most outstanding varsity runner. Dave Bohmke led the J.V. team to the best record of the three male teams. They finished third in the league with a 3-2 score. Bob Derby and Kelly Crider led the strongest soph. team in the school's history. The girls did an excellent job this year with an 11-0 record. Led by Kathy Chisam, Donna Machado, and Barbara Sprague the girls took CIF championship.

Water Polo

Varsity Water Polo, although consisting of strong players, was lacking experience. They faced a but managed to place fourth with two wins and six losses. Their tournament games were more impressive with eight wins and ten losses. Keith Miyamoto an outstanding player, was placed on the First Team All Pacific League and Dave Jepsen on the Second Team. Brad Williams, John Harris and other varsity members gave an effort, but other teams proved to be too tough in experience and skill for the team.

Tough League

1. George Henderson, sophomore team, raced for the ball.

2. Greg Sells, sophomore, got a good start off the block.

3. Junior Varsity swimmer, Mike Duffy, pulled for a win.

4. Ed Florres, Junior Varsity Water Polo, substituted as goalie and did a good job. He helped block the ball and kept the opposing team from scoring.

J.V. Water Polo/Swim Team

The Junior Varsity Swim Team followed the same pattern as the Varsity. They finished the season with an overall record of ten wins, two losses. Their league standings were four wins, and one loss to Alhambra which put them in second place.

Improvement

on the Varsity Team should be looked for next year, because of the fine ability of the swimmers moving up and the returners of this year. Outstanding contributions to the Junior Varsity team were Bob Oederkerk, Scott Petterson, and Pat Sharkey. Sophomore swimmers placed third in league with three wins, two losses. Overall they were six and six.

The Junior Varsity Water Polo Team exhibited good potential for the coming year. They placed second in league behind Muir with a 5-3 mark. Ed Florres, Pat Sharkey, and Scott Petterson helped the team in their only losses to the undefeated Muir. Sophomore players came up short of a second and placed third with a 4-4 finish.

Varsity Swim Team

In recent years the Varsity Swim Team has had its

Ups and Downs

in grabbing the Pacific League Title. This season, however, they showed their fine ability and speed, and were aced out only by Alhambra. Their league standings were four wins and one loss and their overall record was ten wins, two losses. Outstanding performers on the team included Brad Williams, Scott Dubin, Rick Joy and Bob Oederkerk all of whom qualified for CIF. Tammy Stevens, Kim Christian, and Lydia Kennedy dove for the team.

Varsity Basketball

In preseason, supporting a record, Arcadia's varsity basketball team under veteran coach Vallie Robinson was an unpredictable but colorful squad. Taking a 2nd place trophy in the Basset-Amat tournament, the varsity team looked like they had settled into a powerful club. Beating Lakewood, a top rated squad, showed justification of this. But as the Pacific League opened, Arcadia dropped 2 tilts to Alhambra and El Rancho. But Arcadia came right back and beat favored Muir in a high scoring match 82-76. Arcadia made Apache history 2 games later. In what was thought to be a Pasadena romp, Arcadia beat the bulldogs by recovering from a 22 point deficit. Vallie Robinson's was the first Apache Varsity Basketball team to beat Pasadena. With a 3 win 2 loss record in the midway of the Pacific League, Arcadia's squad settled into a 5 winning club.

Explosive Team

J.V./Soph. Basketball Team

Coach Art Farr's J.V. team placed 3rd in the competitive Pacific League. Supporting a 6-4 league mark, Arcadia was edged out by P.L. champions, Muir. Offensively, most of the scoring came from the hands of Jeff Werderman and John Bowen. Brad Tyler, Mark Levan and John Sweeney handled the rebounding as Anton Holefield was the mainstay when assists and defense were needed.

The Sophomore Basketball team had the privilege of being the

of the Pacific League title. Coach Dohling's squad compiled a 20-2 overall, 8-2 league record. Other feats of the champions were the conquering of the Pasadena Tournament, defeating such teams as Compton and Verbum Dei. Brian Grow led the team with rebounds and scoring as Brad Palfrey captured the top assists title. Other fine performances came from John Kincheloe and Randy Traweek. An amazing 52% shooting percentage from the floor indicates a bright future for the Apaches.

Soph-Frosh/Soph-Frosh Reserve Basketball Team

The Sophomore Freshman team under the leadership of Coach Tom Broadhead compiled an overall record of 7-15, and a league record of 1-9; tying for 4th place with Montebello. Mitch Stone was named MVP for the squad for his efforts throughout the season. Other players contributing to the season were Jorge Fernandez, Robert Escobedo, and Gary Forillo.

The Soph/Freshman Reserve Basketball Team also supported a dismal year with a 5-19 overall and 1-9 in league. Although the squad was not very successful, the team always in every game. Standouts on the team were Scott Bell, who was given the title of MVP. Rob Keavney, Bruce Cushman and Doug Kempt also contributed for Arcadia.

Varsity/J.V. Soccer

The Varsity Soccer team, under Coach Al Manachuk, easily was one of the best soccer teams in Arcadia's history. In pre-season supporting a 6-1 mark, only losing to San Gabriel, Arcadia scored 50 goals while opponents were held to only 9. A key to Arcadia's success could be partly contributed to the co-captain goalie Greg Karr. The other co-captain forward Alonso Aguirre, was a major success in Arcadia's offense attack. Arcadia was ranked 10th in Southern California in the middle of the Pacific League when supporting a 5-0 perfect mark. Another milestone in Arcadia Soccer history was the

Night Contest

against LaPuente in which Arcadia easily defeated them, 5-1.

2

The Varsity Wrestling Team, under veteran coach Ed Burke, was co-champion with Montebello in league play. Supporting a 4-1 league mark, only losing to Montebello, Arcadia placed 3 wrestlers in C.I.F. prelims. Jeff Wallick, wrestling in the 98 lb. division, and Dan Bear, 165 lb. division, didn't advance any further in the prelims, but Arcadia's standout Greg Stegner, wrestling in the 140 lb. division, had the privilege of advancing into the finals.

Experience

played a major role in the success of Ed 3 Burke's squad. Next year's hopes lie in Juniors Jeff Wallick and Dave Mazone as they'll vie for another championship.

1. Jeff Wallick, in the 98 lb. class, struggled for control.

2. Ron Eaton forced his opponent to use alternate tactics.

3. Greg Stegner, wrestling in the 140 lb. division, looked for a weakness in his opponent.

4. Junior Varsity Paul Bontempo combined with his opponent in a headlock.

5. Dave Mazone (on bottom) used his skill to get out of his predicament.

Var. J.V. Soph Track

The strength of the Varsity Track team appeared to be in the middle distances and in the field events. Runners Chuck Pacheco, Dave Bohmke, Joel Griffith, Jim Glover, Jim Patapoff, Bob Derby and Gary Lund starred in the 440 through the two-mile. Strong in the field events were Imre Santha in the high-jump and long-jump, Syeve Summers in the shot-put, Terry Keavney in the pole-vault and Jon Bernasconi in the long-jump.

The key people in the Junior Varsity were Jeff Russell in the sprints, George Davis in the hurdles, and Don Phillips, Matt Mew and Roger Conover in the distances.

The best of the newcomers are Larry Mocnik in the

Sprints

Rick Salkeld in the 440, Bob Derby, Kelly Crider, Brad Jenkins, Andy Walbert, and Chris Boyer in the distances. Dan Ertel in the long-jump, Scott Masline in the shot-put and Dennis Farrall and Scott Hull in the high-jump.

Varsity Baseball

The Arcadia Varsity nine, under direction of Coach Dave Ackerman, anticipated a highly successful season. With 8 returning lettermen, 4 of whom earned Pacific League honors, the Apaches fielded a well rounded squad. The suffered a setback when 2nd team Pacific League shortstop Mark Langsdale sustained an injury. Brad Ducich moved from 2nd base to shortstop which brought Bob Frear to tend to 2nd base duties. Last year's first team P.L. hurler Steve Quackenbush covered 3rd base as Greg Jones rounded out first. Catching was handled by Don Conrad. Outfielders consisted of Kurt Osenbaugh in left, Randy Felton in center, and southpaw Scott Raftery in right. Power hitting came from Osenbaugh, Ducich, Raftery and Jones. The consistency of Felton kept him a threat on the basepaths. Pitching duties were supplied by moundsmen Kym Mantz, Gene Marzo, Todd Wilson, and Tony Carri. Able substitutes Kevin Reed, Rob Macgregor, Joe Mazzerese, and long hitting Gary Mitchell supplied the fuel when needed.

1. Centerfielder Randy Felton anticipated the pitch.

2. Righthanded hurler Kym Mantz's aggressive style on the mound kept him a constant threat to opposing batters.

3. Because of Scott Raftery's consistent ability to arrive on base safely, he was therefore batted in many times by teammates.

4. Moundsman, Tony Carri, offered a blazing fastball.

5. Firstsacker, Greg Jones, concentrated on next pitch.

6. Secondbase shortstop combination of Brad Ducich and Mark Langsdale anchored an outstanding infield.

Junior Varsity/Sophomore Baseball

Under veteran coach, John Meiers, the Junior Varsity baseballers went through preseason undefeated for the second year in a row. With an impressive team last year, Coach Meiers won the P.L. title. This year's hopes were still extremely high. With defensive standouts shortstop, Rich Krol, catcher, Eric Albertson, 3rd sacker, Ralph Sposato, and pitching aces, Joe Franceshini, Mike McClellan and Mark Benson, the Apache squad held opponents to minimum of runs. Sluggers, Steve Wright, Bill Anderson, Jay Schellin, and Luke Lynch, kept Arcadia on top.

The Sophomore squad also went undefeated in preseason. With Coach Pat Mack taking over the team, the squad learned many necessary that enabled them to continue the fine reputation that Arcadia has an outstanding program for baseball. Future stars Tom Rochetto, Larry Mocknik, Brad Palfey, Paul Petrovich, Gary Forillo, and Stan Jasco all contributed to the overall success of the team.

Fundamentals

3. Hurler, Mark Benson, was a needed asset to the J.V. club.

4. Slugger, Steve Wright stroked an extra base hit.

5. The Junior Varsity Bench awaited the outcome of a close play.

Varsity Tennis Team

The Varsity Tennis Team was fortunate to have many returning varsity lettermen. Among them were stars Allen Polley, Ron Nickloff and Mike Coberg. Coach Stafford was once again the head of the squad. The strength was evident throughout each player. Their best asset was being especially able to their opponents.

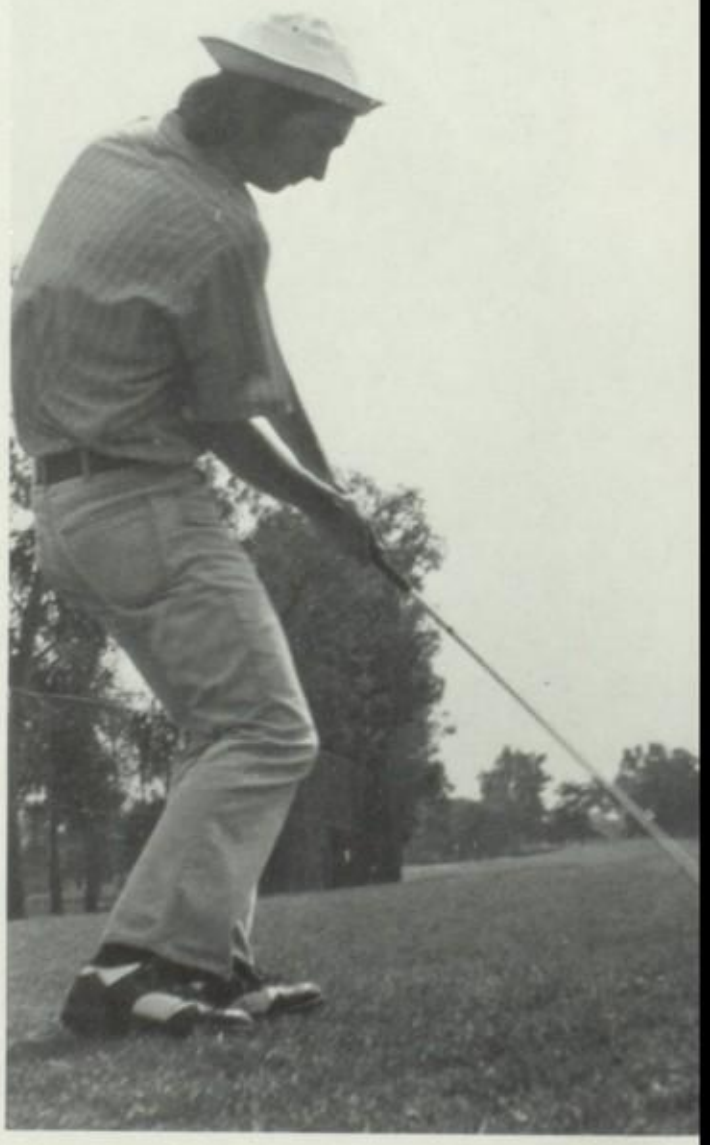
Match play, hole by hole competition, regardless of total stroke score, is used to determine the winner. Junior Varsity standouts included Kevin Gibson, Bob Snyder, and Mark Askren.



1. Kevin Gibson was known for his drives off of the tee.

2. Tom Browning, a second year letterman, shows his consistency in his swing in practice form.

3. Tom Browning concentrated toward his next shot.

4. Dave Lipton, a consistent performer for the varsity, was caught teeing off.

5. Veteran coach, Paul Duhart, contemplated his varsity lineup.

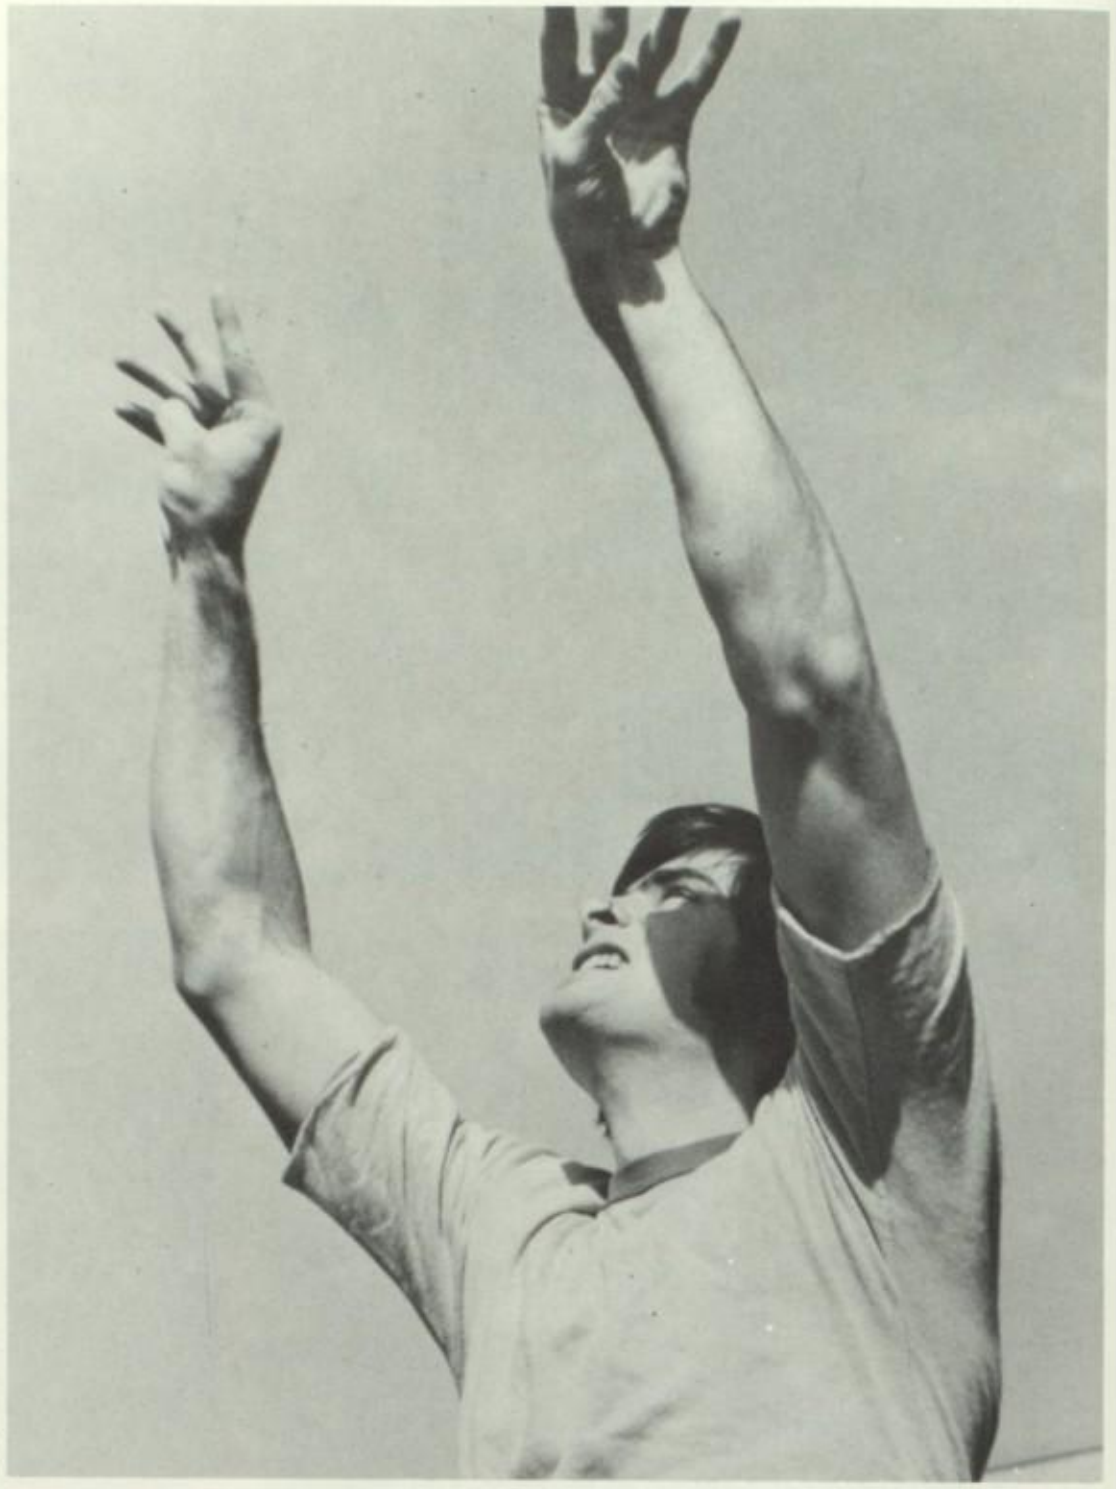
1



1. A key to a successful season could have been partly attributed to Jim Rowley.

2. A new addition to the varsity squad was Jan White, whose team play helped the team immensely.

3. Bill Horne was shown here setting up the ball. Bill was a great asset to the club.

4. Captain Tom Forbes led the team not only in enthusiasm but talent as well. Jim Rowley aided the team with his consistent playing ability.

Varsity Volleyball

Under the direction of a new coach, Mr. Paul Weinberger, the volleyball team was one of the more successful teams at Arcadia. One of the reasons for the great play was captain Tom Forbes. Jim Rowley along with Bill Horne and Bob Hollingsworth were the of the club. The team spent many hours in training which proved well worth it because of their striving aggressiveness to always do their best.

Girls' Tennis

As anticipated, Arcadia's 1974-75 girls' tennis team shone in performance. The members' combined talent and effort resulted in both the Varsity and Junior Varsity teams finishing the season undefeated. Barbara Hallquist later perpetuated the school's victory by impressively capturing first place in CIF competition. In addition, her devastating display of poise and skill earned Arcadia not only respect, but immense

Fame

To the excitement of Coach Diane Soldwedel and all the girls, Barbara's CIF finals match was filmed and presented on network television.

1. Jane Penne's lethal serve was captured from behind the fence by an interested photographer viewing the CIF tennis match.

2. Varsity doubles player, Sue Allen, skillfully drove a shot past her opponent during an after school tennis match.

3. Karin Alfredson, Diane Cross, Janice Mies, and Laurie Grater willingly demonstrated the typical Arcadia sportsmanship at the end of a match.

4. Denise Melkesian executed a fine backhand shot just previous to the termination of a victorious game.

5. Barbara Hallquist performed a variety of excellent shots, convincing any viewer of the validity of her national recognition.

6. Sophomore player, Kathy Lynch, displayed the tennis finesse which earned her a position on the Varsity team.

1. Sandy Tyrell and Judy Volk got in some last minute practice just prior to their game against Alhambra, their toughest competition.

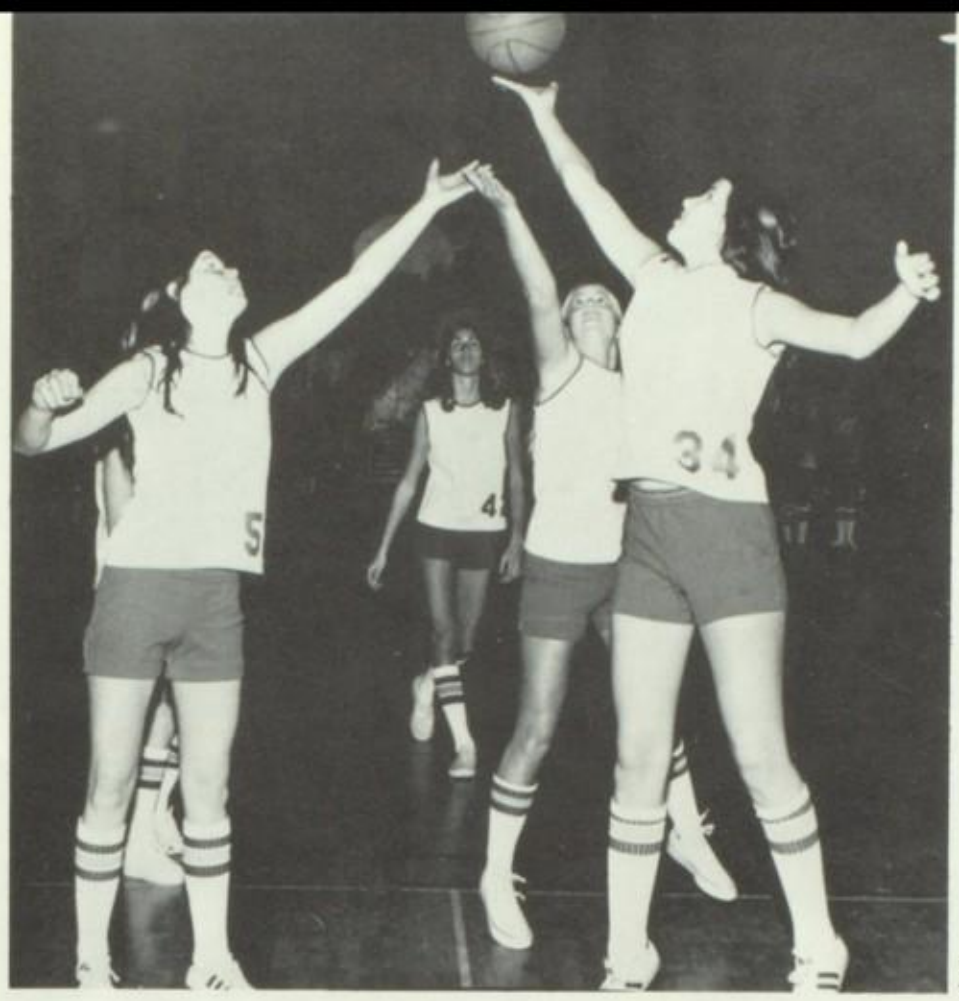
2. Linda Mohr prepared herself for a basket while Vicki Simon gasped in speculation. Terry Dembitz awaited the rebound.

3. Carol Markling skillfully bumped the ball to her patiently waiting teammate, Kim Brannon.

4. Concentration and technique were the key ingredients as Judy Volk readied herself for a bump shot.

5. Ann Cleghorn, Linda Mohr, and Vicki Simon vied for possession on the ball. Lisa Haderline was captivated by their determination.

6. Keeping her eye on the ball, Wendy Hegg dribbled her way down the court.



Girls' Volleyball and Basketball

The girls comprising AHS's volleyball team spent many hours perfecting their skills under the direction of an excellent coach, Lynn Schultz. The results of diligent practices were many: the team improved their bumping, setting, and spiking abilities and entered league competition with great

Determination

Their efforts were later rewarded when both JV and Varsity impressively ended the season with third place titles. Likewise, Arcadia was represented by several superb girls basketball players this year. Although there was an unresolved dispute over rightful possession of the girls' gym, the team found enough time to improve itself and terminate a successful season.

Girls' Varsity Basketball Team; Top: Terry Dembitz, Vicky Simon, Lisa Haderline, Linda Mohr, Jody Roginson, Sue Gregory, Ann Cleghorn. Not Pictured: Louise Fasana.

1. Jaime Brooks, Janice Hodgins, and Diane Supple happily worked out on the kick-boards which served to strengthen their swimming muscles.

2. Kelly Lipka smoothly handed the baton to Ann Harper at a crucial moment in the girls' relay.

3. Fifi Tanacsos was caught just prior to crossing the finish line and winning the girls relay event against a tough Alhambra team.

4. Nicki Hill glided over the high bar, to be greeted by a soft awaiting Port-a-Pit.

5. Candy Greenburg displayed fine breast stroke technique at an afternoon practice.

6. Ingrid Bowles diligently practiced her free-style stroke.

Girls' Track and Swimming

The Girls' Swim Team faced a much stronger test of endurance as all the race distances were doubled in their competitive meets this season. However, with Coach Rice's firm diet instructions and demands of 3000 yard-a-day practices, the girls were soon in shape and prepared to face all other contenders for the league title.

Record Breaker

was a phrase oft repeated during the course of the Apache track season. Especially talented in the areas of long distance running and hurdling, the girls spiced their meets with a series of impressive victories. Such success was surely attributed to both the skill and the determination of the conscientious members.

1. Looking ahead, Kristin Powell prepared herself for the proper execution of her birdie.

2. Colleen Serar eagerly reached out for the shuttle, waiting no amount of time for it to reach her.

3. With great power and skill, Mary Hammonds forcefully sent her birdie flying across the court.

Girls' Badminton

The Girls' Badminton players were under the direction of a new coach, Carol Slater, and two highly capable athletes from the PCC Boys College team. Mrs. Slater organized daily workouts, while the young men taught strategy and skills to 20 new and 10 returning players. The efforts of these several coaches, combined with persistently attended practices, proved to supply the necessary for a badminton team who had an extremely successful season.

Fuel

Seniors

The Senior Class Officers, a world renowned chain of clever devised the plans for a 30's Day, and Fifth Quarter. Lead by mastermind, Bill Jess, the officers were concerned with revising graduation ceremonies and promoting better communication between students, faculty, and advisors.

Seniors exhibited a long overdue responsible attitude as they received the privilege of open lunch for the first time in school history.

Top Row: Bill Jess, President, Annamaria Budavari, Corresponding Secretary, Suzanne Schuler, Historian. Bottom Row: Steve Quackenbush, Senator, Lynn Boatright, Vice President, Mary Basic, Recording Secretary, Lynn Reeder, Treasurer, Gina Scurto, Youth Commission.

The Senior Class officers enjoyed licorice ice cream.

Steve Quackenbush artistically planned for Gangster Day.

Seniors 74-75

Blow-It-Out was one of the most popular phrases for the class of 74-75. With the successful open lunch program, semester graduation, and state legislation allowing seniors to drop second semester classes if they could fulfill graduation requirements. Yet, this class showed dedication and leadership by proving to have one of the finest Drama Departments, and Bands in the state. Extremely talented vocal groups, and successful clubs topped a very high academic standard.

Besides worrying about acceptance to higher education, and involvement with school work, many seniors aquired a part time job and enrolled in work education.

Friendships became a very important part of the senior year, as students became attuned to the world around them; perhaps the most important memories of the three years at Arcadia High were the feelings shared with one another.

Gold Seal Graduates

1974-75 was a year for high academic accomplishments. The number of graduates who received the gold seal of the California Scholarship Federation was almost double to that of the previous year. These students who have maintained between a 3.5 and 4.0 grade point average throughout their three years at Arcadia High School, represent the top one-tenth of the graduating class.

Congratulations!

Senior Awards

Members of the Senior Class of Arcadia High were honored with awards and award nominations because of their outstanding accomplishments. These are only a few of the students by community sponsors. We valued the interest,clubs and businesses have shown in the youth of today, and the faith they have put in the adults of tomorrow.

Honored

We also congratulated Karen Clements, Los Angeles Industrial Educational Business Education Medallion award winner, and Steve Miller, Jedinstvo Athletic Club (J.A.C.) award winner who are not pictured on the Senior Award Pages.

There are many other awards to be announced, however, at the time of publication names of those students chosen were not available.

Echoes of our Minds . . .

Laurie Jones

Beginings

At this moment,
In some distant place,
People are laughing, sinning and loving.
But here, where my mind and soul exist,
Those joys a submerged
In the well of my troubled thoughts.
The desires I posess have had Their energy turned into frustrations.
The obstacles I face are walls of stern-faced authorities who supposebly know "what's best for me."
Worst of all, I feel beat and defeated by this turmoil.

But soon, like the stallion who's round the final turn,
I'll be free.
And they'll realize That we weren't even in the same race.

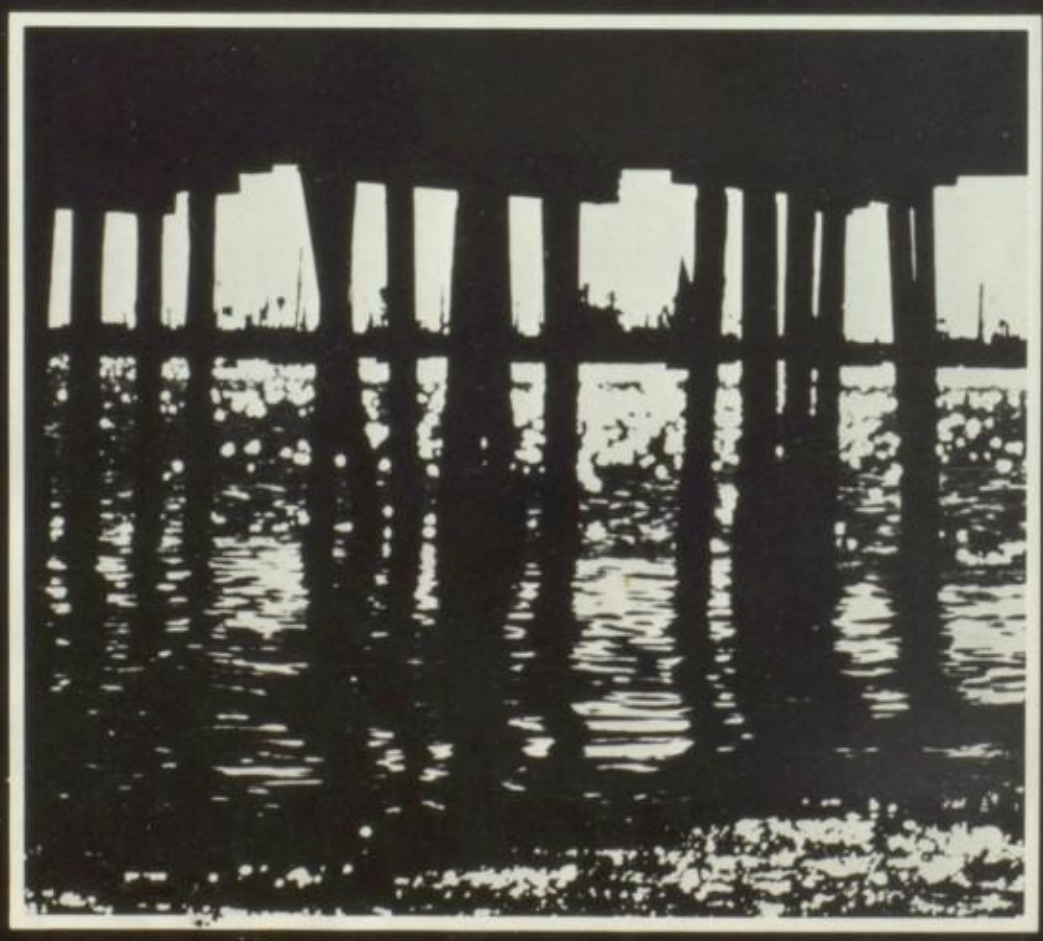
Julie Stiles



Gary Nolton

Don Miller

The future's ours
let's reach out and mold it, and we shall exceed
For our hopes and dreams are those of the world . . .

Luann Yates

No more will I sail among seashore waves of softing images, allowing sunshine to dance on them only long enough to see lost dreams of disappointments

I look into a mirrored reflection mine
there I have lived among the waves of time
Flowing outward with the tide
A sea to lose myself in.

Coloring Book

The pictures are ever so slowly falling apart . . .

I can no longer
find the correct boundries
in which to move
my lifeless pastels (there are no longer
any bright colors;
only dim shades
of life as I know it)

My straight lines
are ever so quietly
becoming slow curves,
forming endless
concentric circles
around vast emptiness . . .

I often find myself
leaving more and more pages blank —
unwilling to color them (unable to understand why I should even bother)

And if I even tried to fill the lifeless shapes
with vibrant colors,
who would be my model?
For you are as mildly confused and discontent
as I,
and offer little help
other than lending your hand
as I turn the pages
of my coloring book . . .

The Easy Way

Don't drift away now,
so easy to tune out concentration,
Alone inside; just think and wander.
My own serenity, no one hears the thinking,
only their own.
The easy way of passing time.

Is everyone else using constructive minds,
am I the only one analyzing the situation?
Wish I could search out their minds,
Alone inside; no one can hurt me there.
What's inside the heads of others?
Just thoughts and problems unlike mine,
but only their own?
The easy way of copping out.

Time is fading,
I'll lose the moment of capturing one instant of mental harmony with them all.
We'll all go on,
Alone inside: where no one else can enter,
to make us share, and perhaps some how reach each other
The easy way.

Lighthouse

All alone
planted forever by the sea
crowing a lost hill isolated
by a wide wall of emptiness

It's voice beckons to the sea
It's friend and brother . . .
        Forever

It's white beacon in the distance catches the eye of a traveler
but for just one moment

The lighthouse
standing tall in it's ancient beauty respected by nature
lost in the progress of man
Trademark of the sea and forgotten dreams

Details blurred and
outlines subdued,
Thoughts and feelings

See the revisions that time plays,
After all our

So to wake one morning
and recollect,
Wonder at one's unfamiliar folly
And not to know yourself
at all.

Junior Class

The Junior Class could have been classified as extremely active as many of it's members were of trash can fires and rowdy assembly behavior, complete with firecrackers, somewhat smoking out their reputation. However, the officers came back strong with a Hawaiian Fifth Quarter, the 2nd Annual Donkey Basketball Game and the junior-Senior Prom.

Ringleaders

1. Francine Fitzgerald and Cindy Cooper enjoyed goofing around for an interested photographer.

Sophomore Class

Efforts by the Sophomore Class Officers to create a successful Homecoming Booth were as the leaders willingly allowed soaked sponges to be thrown at them during the Homecoming Carnival. The officers' attitude towards actual accomplishments were reflected in Sophomore Class President Allan Melkesian's statement, "I'm glad I was elected because now I have the chance to make improvements for the Sophomore Class." Several fund-raisers were held by the officers in addition to a Christmas Fifth Quarter.

1. The hard working Board of Education consisted of James Harvey, Donald Fickas, Lewis May, Gloria Horstman, and George Frempter.

2. Parliamentarian Sue Miller, President Pearl Lunghard, and Program Chairman Charlene Zoller led the P.T.A. in all areas of assistance for the school.

3. Dr. May got carried away trying to regain order during a Board meeting.

4. Mrs. Lunghard and Betty Bellows, at the microphone, presented the Honorary Service Awards.

5. Doug Werk, President, hiked the ball to Syd Larkin, Secretary, Herb Daniel, Treasurer, and Dean Horstman, Vice-President, who carried it all the way for the Boosters Club.

6. Pressing matters usually forced the School Board meetings to run overtime.

Board of Education/P.T.A./ Boosters Club

The 1974-1975 Board of Education under the direction of Dr. Edward V. Ryan, Superintendent, and Elbert Souders, Associate Superintendent, had a successful and profitable year. They reviewed the open lunch program for Seniors and disapproved of extending this program to the Junior and Sophomore classes. The Board spent much time and effort working to get the controversial Base Revenue Bill passed. The P.T.A. sponsored to get the Sophomore's parents acquainted with each other. The Boosters Club spent the money it earned by selling over 300 memberships on supplies for the Athletics Department.

Coffee Clatches

To the Class of 1975:

"First, congratulations on a fine high school career. It's with regret we see the time approach when the staff and I must say adieu. Yours has been an outstanding class. You've left records of achievement that will long be remembered by all of us. The single factor that stands out far and above that of any class before yours has been your desire to be a contributing part of the school. The class of '75 has easily taken in stride the many historical happenings and carried on with an optimistic attitude. This one trait, above all others, marks each of you in my memory. We are hopeful that you will maintain your enthusiasm and achievement in the future and wish each of you the best of success and good fortune."

Principal/Assistant Principals

Dr. Richard W. Cordano and the Assistant Principals continued the attempt to close the between students and administrators. The hardest part of the job was convincing students that the faculty was working for and not against them. Committees were organized to give students and administrators a chance to openly express their views. On the whole, students were as responsive to the administrators opinions as administrators were to students.

Communication Gap

1. Dr. Cordano couldn't believe that he had misplaced the German Soccer Team.

2. Much of Dr. Cordano's time was spent entertaining guests on campus.

3. Principal, Richard Cordano, worked for better understanding between students and faculty.

4. Mr. Anderson spent most of each day organizing student actiities.

5. Mr. Askew listened intently to a suggestion made by the Curriculum Committee.

6. Relaxing after a busy day, Mr. Harris couldn't quite keep his eyes open.

7. Mr. Keavney helped Ms. Horstman check hall passes.

Counselors/Secretaries/Nurse

Career Hopping, and the Regional Occupational Program, better known as R.O.P. were emphasized this year by the Career Guidance Center. Mr. Lee Walbert was in charge of the R.O.P. program. The Secretaries were always ready to lend a hand whenever a student was in a

Pinch

The nurse always ready with a thermometer served the less healthy students at A.H.S.

1. Mrs. Preston and office monitor, Vicki Webber kept track of homework assignments for absent students.

2.Never a hair out of place described this years secretaries which included Helen Roe, Pat Kay, Linda Preston, Jeannette Tisdale, and Marlyn Nickloff. Not pictured were Adeline Johnson, Nina Draughon, and Vera Durr.

3. Mrs. Nickloff spent much of her time cleaning the counselors conference room.

4. Nurse Adele Merz was often seen rushing from her office to an emergency.

5. A stack of work and going home were the two choices that confronted Mrs. Gale one afternoon.

6. The always helpful counselors were John Thomson, Mavis Dumbacher, Margaret Gale, Charles Gessford, Max Gramer, and Lois Iredale (not pictured).

7. Mrs. McIlyar used a video tape projector to help students explore various vocations.

Librarians and Clerks

3

Much of the planning and working this year was done by people seldom seen by the students. When the librarians weren't tracing books, they searched for new books and updated reference materials. Audio Visual kept teachers supplied with learning aids. The Student Store IBM, and Textbooks assisted daily.

Overdue

4

1. Eileen Smith worked diligently as the records clerk, while Lenore Richardson struggled steadfastly as the textbook clerk. Jean Joiner was in charge of the Student Store and Donna Mills co-ordinated the activities of the audio visual staff.

2. At a party given by her office monitors, nobody knew how many candles to put on Mrs. Joiner's birthday cake.

3. Mrs. Plyler showed a bashful student how to use the Readers Guide To Periodical Literature.

4. Ruth Layman, Florence Adams and Grayce Kelly (not pictured) helped Head Librarian Hilda Plyler controll noise pollution.

5. IBM's Louise Balaban was programmed for service with a smile.

The English Department was known for its many specialty courses. Literature of Nature and Science Fiction and Fantasy were two of the more popular classes. Students who took Comic Literature got a

English/Foreign Language

The addition of teacher aids was a Major Breakthrough

in the Foreign Language department. With the aids checking homework and test papers, teachers found they could spend more time with the individual students. This also gave the teachers more time to spend planning new teaching techniques to hold the students interest.

Science/Music/Art

Alan Takagaki joined the Science Department and worked diligently to make this one of the most successful years ever. Under the direction of Mr. Fred Schwab, department chairman, teachers worked on improving classes already being taught, rather than new ones. Music Appreciation was a popular new class offered by the Music Department and the Art Department took "a small step for man, a giant leap for womankind," with the introduction of Women in Art, Literature and History. Paula Key, Karen Giles and Marsha Kading team — taught this new class.

Developing

Math/Special Education

Students in higher mathematics classes were given a break with the addition of electronic calculators in the Math Department. Although the department was described as enrollment was reported to have gone up. Mr. Kinikin insisted that this was not because classes were any easier, in fact the drop rate went up also. Student aids in the Special Education Department were praised as being "just wonderful." The Career Guidance Center cooperated in giving the students opportunities to explore various occupations.

"Hard Nosed"

All too often the pace of life is so fast that we sometimes lose touch with the world around us. What we're saying is hold on to today, grasp the meaning of life and live each day to its fullest. I'd like to thank all of the sincerely dedicated people who spent many hours working to produce this book and a special thanks to Mr. Gary Roberts and Mr. Bill Milne for their help and their friendship.

Lynn Highman/Editor

"Yesterday is already a dream and tomorrow is only a vision.
But today well lived
makes every yesterday a dream of happiness and every tomorrow a vision of hope."
We have tried to show this thought throughout our book. It simply means that we should celebrate life, hold on to today and live it to its fullest. I'd like to thank everyone for the time they spent working to put this annual together. We hope that the countless hours have been worth the effort.

Karen,
why in the heck couldn't I have known you better
you live right around the corner! You are a beautiful person, made me out, for cheerleader the perfect secretary for all of your hard work. Thank you & keep your head up. God bless all of you done. May love,

Karen-

Thank you for being our office monitor this year
You really helped us a lot in many ways. I hope you have a fantastic summer and hav
a great life!

love,
Danny
O'Donnell

Karen,

I don't know what to say,
I'm speechless! But, I'll say something anyway! I'll write you in boot camp during the summer and tell you how I'm doing, OK?
You've been a good friend and we've had some good times, at least I did! Until then Karen, and you'll have to figure out when's then, but until then, stay healthy! I'll see you at my going away party where we will all get smashed!!
Good luck at college!!

Karen,
this year has seemed interesting! We've had raised some hell in English
Karen with Bud, Ron, Marena Scott & Debbie. Poor Mrs. Davis!
and then Silverstein's class. BORING!!!
Well, it has been fun! Enjoy your summer and be successful in life. Maybe see you around when I come back to visit.

Remember to smile!

Love,
Laurel

Karen – Mar/Fam was great! I sure hope my real mar. isn't the way it was in that class! See you at P.C.C.
next year!
Love you!
Sue Brooks

Karen,
you were a great
secretary 1st semester
in a cappella.
Best Regards
Carolyn

Dear Karen,
Thanks for making me smile at P.C.C.
Remember to smile more often.
Keep singing!
